PMBA's Compensation Insights

After weathering a busy and complicated time for stations, PMBA is excited to relaunch the Compensation Insights benchmarking survey. Both member and nonmember stations are invited to participate in our ongoing effort to collect trusted and validated information. Our interactive platform will allow members and participating nonmembers (for a limited time) to benchmark their station against multiple data points, including radio and TV staff salaries, benefit programs offered, employee counts, and more.

Please encourage your station to take advantage of this invaluable tool! If you are the primary contact for your station but have not received the submission template, please contact PMBA and we will update your station's contact information.

House Appropriations Committee Recommends $565M for CPB

Current

The House Appropriations Committee approved a spending bill that would provide $565 million to CPB in fiscal year 2024, an increase of nearly 27% over the corporation's current funding levels.

The bill also boosts funding to Ready To Learn, the Department of Education program that funds educational content for preschool children, to nearly $31.8 million and provides flat funding of $20 million for public media interconnection. Read more.

EAS Units Need Certification Updates Next Month; FCC Gets National Test Help From States And Cities

Inside Radio

As radio gears up for the planned August 11 national test of the Emergency Alert System, so are equipment manufacturers. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) will once again be testing the broadcast daisy-chain distribution of alerts. But the updates from equipment makers is not limited to that technology. Digital Alert Systems has just pushed out an important update to help ensure its systems work correctly. It includes new digital certificates used to authenticate messaging sent by FEMA from the internet-based Integrated Public Alert and Warning System (IPAWS). The new credentials are needed since a certificate in the current certification chain will expire August 21.

Indeed Adds Video Interviews to All Job Postings

HR Dive

All direct job postings on Indeed now come with a video interview option, Indeed announced in a July 15 press release. Recruiters can now opt in to offering a video interview for both free and sponsored jobs, at no additional cost.

On average, employers get candidates into interviews 20% faster than in-person meetings or third-party digital interviews via the Indeed video call option, the company said. Prior to this announcement, Indeed had already hosted more than 500,000 video interviews. Read more.
